

CCSC Executive Director Michelle Shonbeck and The Hamill Foundation Grants Director Tom Brown visit the construction site of the new J. Dean Robinson Building.

The Hamill Foundation Supports CCSC

The Hamill Foundation has been a faithful and generous supporter of CCSC's mission since 2013. When CCSC initiated a campaign to expand its work with a new building, The Hamill Foundation jumped in with additional campaign support while still undergirding the work done daily in feeding the hungry, meeting children's targeted needs, and helping the underemployed and unemployed to find work and raise household income. According to Tom Brown, longtime Grants Director at The Hamill Foundation, "We like to support CCSC because they give thousands of low income families and individuals a second chance."

Campaign Update

As the structure of the new building begins to take shape, CCSC friends, volunteers, donors and staff continue to grow in their excitement. Some of the comments overheard include:

“When the stairs went in, it really began to seem like a real building!”

“I am so humbled to see my small gift helping to create this new home for CCSC.”

Every gift has been, and will continue to be, critically important as we begin the countdown to the opening of the new J. Dean Robinson Building.

CCSC still needs to raise $2.3 million to finalize its $14 million Capital Campaign and realize your dream and ours—to serve more and serve better.

For information about encouraging others to give and/or making an additional gift to help complete the campaign, please contact Development Director Sharon Current at scurrent@ccschouston.org
